Who We Are

The Teulon-Rockwood Centennial Centre is operated by the Teulon-Rockwood Recreation Commission. The Recreation Commission is responsible for the joint recreational facilities in the Town of Teulon and RM of Rockwood and for providing recreation programming to the community.

Our story

The Centennial Centre was built in 1966 as a Canadian Centennial project and has been the ideal gathering place for the community over the past 48 years.

The Centennial Centre has been continually improved over its life and currently features environmentally friendly geothermal heating, traditional and round tables and a newly upgraded commercial kitchen.

The Centennial Centre has a solid history of hosting top notch events. We're here to help make your special event an experience everyone will remember.

Teulon-Rockwood Centennial Centre is a great asset to have in the community and our goal is to make sure it's available for the community and your events. If you have ideas for events, improvements to the hall or anything else that comes to mind, let the Recreation Commission know.
